ADVANCED FAT LOSS SUPPORT

Your body isn't resisting fat loss.
It's protecting itself from something that hasn't been addressed yet.

Bioresonance scanning and personalised frequency protocols that work on the internal layer — so fat loss becomes sustainable, not a constant battle.

HOW IT WORKS

THE ROOT CAUSE

What most fat loss approaches miss

Fat loss treatments and programmes focus on what is visible — calories, volume, procedures. But the body's ability to process, eliminate and sustain fat loss is determined by what is happening internally.

During fat breakdown

When fat cells are broken down — through exercise, diet, or procedures like fat freezing — stored toxins are released into circulation. If detox and elimination pathways are overloaded, results stall, inflammation rises, and symptoms worsen.

- Retention and bloating
 - Fatigue and brain fog
 - Mood instability and cravings
 - Slower, inconsistent results

Beyond the physical

Fat loss is not only physiological. Nervous system dysregulation, emotional patterns around food, stress-driven behaviours and compulsive responses all directly influence results.

- Emotional eating and compulsive behaviours
- Cravings driven by dopamine dysregulation and parasites
- Self-sabotage and inconsistency
- Loss of control around food decisions

THE METHODOLOGY

How the protocol works

A layered, personalised approach using advanced bioresonance technology and frequency-based tools — addressing the internal conditions that determine the quality and sustainability of fat loss.

ASSESSMENT LAYER

Bioresonance Scan — AO Scan

Before we support your body, we need to understand exactly what it is dealing with. The AO Scan reads the electromagnetic signals your body emits — giving us a precise picture of how your system is actually functioning during your fat loss journey.

- Which detox and elimination pathways are overloaded
- Where toxic and metabolic load is accumulating
- How your nervous system is regulating under treatment
- What your body specifically needs right now

Frequency Drops

INTERNAL DETOX AND METABOLIC SUPPORT

Personalised Frequency Drops

Your personalised drops work from within — supporting the specific detox and metabolic pathways your body needs to process and eliminate what your fat loss journey is releasing.

- Detox pathways and elimination support
- Liver function and metabolic processing
- Lymphatic movement and fluid balance
- Overall metabolic balance during active fat loss

NERVOUS SYSTEM AND EMOTIONAL REGULATION

Personalised Frequency Spray

Your personalised spray addresses the regulatory layer — the nervous system and emotional patterns that directly determine whether your body holds on to fat loss results or lets them go.

- Calm and stabilise your nervous system
- Reduce stress-driven cravings
- Support emotional regulation around food
- Maintain internal consistency for lasting results

Frequency Spray

Frequency Pendant

CONTINUOUS FREQUENCY SUPPORT

Personalised Vibrational Pendant

Your personalised pendant works continuously — programmed with up to 400 individual frequency signals supporting your body across every layer simultaneously.

- Nervous system stability throughout your journey
- Emotional pattern regulation around food and cravings

- Continuous detox and metabolic balance support
 - Overall systemic coherence during active fat loss

Hidro vitalis
